

Conference of Former Econometrics Students:

31 March 2023
Northwestern University

FRIDAY	Room 4140 Kellogg Global Hub
9:00 – 9:20	Registration and Breakfast - Floor 4 Lounge
9:20 – 9:30	Welcoming words by Ivan Canay
9:30 – 10:20	Keynote talk: Dynamic Selection and Parallel Trend Elie Tamer, Harvard University
10:30 – 11:00	Coffee Break - 4th floor KGH
11:00 – 12:00	Decomposition and Interpretation of Treatment Effects in Settings with Delayed Outcomes Federico Bugni, Northwestern University Paper discussed by Filip Obradovic, Northwestern University
12:00 – 1:30	Lunch – 4th floor KGH
1:30 – 2:30	Classical p-values and the Bayesian Posterior Probability that the Hypothesis is Approximately True Brendan Kline, University of Texas – Austin Paper discussed by Ahnaf Rafi, Northwestern University
2:30 – 3:30	Estimating Social Network Models with Missing Links Xun Tang, Rice University Paper discussed by Yong Cai, Northwestern University
3:30 – 4:00	Coffee Break - 4th floor KGH
4:00 – 5:00	The Coherence Side of Rationality: Rules of Thumb, Narrow Bracketing, and Managerial Incoherence in Corporate Forecasts Pamela Giustinelli, Bocconi University Paper discussed by Deborah Kim, Northwestern University

Center for Econometrics

Northwestern | Department of Economics